SHERMAN'S ARREST.

A Silversmith Deceives his Employer and Steals Twenty-Seven Watches He Admits his Guilt, and is Indicted.

In vesterday's APPEAL mention was mad of the arrest of a young man employed in V.

B. Thayer's jewelry store, No. 310 Second street. The name of the young man is E.
W. Sherman. The charge upon which he was arrested and has already been indicted is larceny and a fraudulent breach of trust. Mr. Thayer having missed a number of watches, had reason to suspect Sherman, who was a silversmith in his store and had charge of a great deal of work and repairing. By close observation his suspicions were confirmed, and he determined to detect and have Sherman arrested. A detective being given the facts relative to the conduct of Sherman, left a watch with him to be repaired, saying that he would call for it in ten days. Detective Pryde, however, called for his watch in two days, but Sherman did not have it in his possession. This led to the arrest of Sherman, who at once admitted that he had taken a large number of watches from Thayer's jewelry store and bor-rowed money upon them. So far as we have eard we do not know that Sherman has ever sold any of the watches that he took. The detectives have recovered nine watches, and claim that they have found seventeen in pos-session of Ed Smith, who refused to surren--Main street, south of Gayoso, is being | der them, as he bought them from Sherman Of course suit will be instituted against Smith for the recovery of the watches, which if stolen cannot be retained by the purchaser. A BIG VERDICT.

Result of the Insurance Case in the United States Court-The Companies to Pay the Entire Amount of the Policies.

Yesterday afternoon the consolidated suitknown as the Martin insurance cases, which have been on trial in the United States court since the first of March, was concluded, the jury bringing in a verdict for the plaintiffs. There were in all seven policies of life insurance, held by S. M. Wellborn, who died some hree years imprisonment.

—In the sensational damage case, which to pay these policies, but contended that the has been occupying the attention of the circuit court, the jury is unable to agree. Eleven out of the twelve are for the defendant, but one man is for the girl.

—In the case of Pierson and others against the Little Rock railroad, a judgment for six thousand dollars has been obtained in favor the total sum being $37,564. The trial of the case has occupied a great deal of time, and engaged the services of half a dozen or more lawyers. The evidence was quite lengthy, there being a pamphlet edition of the depositions filed in the different cases. The plaintiffs had for their attorneys District-Attorney Murray and Gantt & Patterson. The defendants were represented by Estes & Ellett and Wright & Folkes. A motion for a new trial was entered by the defendants and will be argued at the next term of the court, which begins in May.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Two Colored Boys Play with a Loaded Pistol-One Loses Three Teeth. but Gets a Bullet in his Mouth.

Between eight and nine o'clock Wednesday night two negro boys, named Warren Williams and Seely Smith, amused themselves by playing with a pistol. They were in the house of Smith's parents, on Jackson street, between Lauderdale and Wellington, the old folks being present. Warren pointed the pistol at his playmate, Smith, and remarked that he would shoot him. He pulled the trigger, and the pistol fired, the bullet striking Smith in the mouth and knocking out three teeth. The wounded boy gave a yell, which only added to the consternation of his parents and Wiliams. It was thought that the bullet would Colonel T. W. White, of Hernando, Missis-ippi, left for home last evening. Two of was flowing from the boy's mouth. A physician being summoned examined the wound, which he pronounced dangerous, though not necessarily fatal. The bullet lodged in the back of the neck, whence it was extracted by the physician. It is rumored that Williams threatened to shoot Smith, but the circumstances of the affair do not justify the belie that he had any enmity toward the boy, or was actuated by ill will. The shooting was doubtless accidental, it being done in th presence of Smith's mother and father. Wil liams is about thirteen and Smith about eleven years of age. A REPUBLICA REVIEW.

What Three Leading Republicans Memphis Have to Say About "My Southern Policy" and its Cennection with the Pacific Railroad Ring.

His Fraudulency Thinks he can Buy the South by the Corruption and Purchase of Easy-Going and Doubtful "Conservative" Democrats Like Michael J. Waldran.

Randolph Says no Democrat can Remain in the Cabinet Without Becoming a Republican, and he wants Democrats to Turn Radicals from Principle and not for Pelf-Correct.

The interest manifested by the public rela-tive to the local appointments by the Radical administration, yesterday induced the political commissioner of the APPEAL to interview a number of prominent Republicans who have recently returned from visits to Wash-

This gentleman in answer to our questions stated that he knew nothing about politics, as his visit to Washington was not at the soicitation of politicians or office-seekers, but in the interest of the Texas and Pacific railroad bill. He knew nothing as to the intentions of Mr. Key respecting the postmaster-ship of Memphis. He thought it probable that Mike J. Waldran would be appointed marshal for West Tennessee, though there was a question as to the legality of an apointment, as there is no vacancy existing Mr. Davis is of opinion that Mr. Key and his riends have more influence with the Presi-lent than the clamorous politicians. GENERAL R. F. PATTERSON, collector of internal revenue, gave his views Question-Have you any idea who will be postmaster in Memphis?

Answer—I do not know, When I left Washington I understood that the question was undecided, and would not be determined or a week or more.

Question—What about the appointment of Mike Waldran as marshal for West Ten-Answer-I understood that there was a question of law as to the authority of the President to remove and appoint to office, but that the attorney-general has the subject un-der consideration, and will give an opinion ery soon. I also was informed that the sident still adheres to the nomination of general policy of the President to appoint, in certain cases, men to positions in the south who have been conservative Democrats. Question-Why has there been opposition Answer-The Republicans here have genrally indorsed Captain S. S. Garrett for the ppointment. I did not understand this opsition to Mr. Waldran's appointment to be position to air. Wattarn's appointment to de an opposition to the policy of appointing a certain class of conservative Democrats in the south, but simply because they had previous-y indorsed either Captain Garrett or Hon. D. Nunn, of Brownsville. Question—Can you give us any idea as to who will probably be postmaster in Memphis Answer-I cannot speak definitely, though would not be surprised if some one whose hould be appointed to the office

COLONEL WILLIAM M. RANDOLPH, prominent Republican, was also interewed, and this is what he had to say: Question—As you have just returned from Vashington, I called to ascertain something efinite relative to the Memphis postoffice and he appointment thereto. Answer-I do not know anything upon this ubject. Certain gentlemen, whose names are known to you, are applicants for the po-sition of postmaster, but I am not advised as o who will be appointed to the position. Question—Does it seem to be the intention the administration to remove the present sumbents of Federal offices in this city?

Answer—I can't speak as to the postoffice, of having heard it mentioned in that con-Question-What do you understand to be the policy relative to the other local Federal Answer-There is a general disposition to retain competent officers in all the positions. This information I obtained from observation and the general tone of sentiment expresse in Washington, without having any assur-ance to such effect from the heads of depart-

Question-Well, what about Mike Wal-Iran's selection and appointment to the posi-ion of marshal for West Tennessee? Answer—I don't know anything more than he public know already. So far as I can as-ertain, the appointment of Mr. Waldran is pposed by all, or nearly all the Tennessee tepublicans I saw in Washington. I heard to intimation that Mr. Waldran was to be ppointed until the announcement was made nat he had been appointed. Question-Who recommended him?

Answer—I have not been able to learn who commended his appointment. My inforation is that the name of Captain S. S. Gar et was sent from the attorney-general's of-ce to the President the day before Waldran's appointment. The latter's name, as I learn, was substituted for the former gentleman's, either before or in the cabinet meeting. How it came to be done I, of course, do not know. When I ascertained what had been done, at the request, and, I may add, at the demand of the Tennessee Republicans who were in Washington, I and Colonel Thornburgh went to President Hayes and requested him to withdraw Waldran's nomination until he ould make inquiry into the facts and satisfy himself as to the propriety of the appoint-ment. The President said he did not desire to withdraw any name he sent to the senate at that time, but suggested that the appoint-ment be stopped in the senate. We said that we did not desire to place ourselves in opposition to the President. He replied that t was no opposition, and that he desired us o go with him to see Senator Morton, who was sitting in one of the west rooms below in the White House, and that he would say the same to this gentleman in our presence. Question—Did you go? Answer—Yes; we went down and he did say in substance that he had to make appointents without full information, and he de sired Senator Morton, and all other senators to understand that he would not construe i as opposition to withhold the confirmation of any appointment when there was reasonable J. & J. STEELE & CO. ends of objection. What was done after that I do not personally know.

Question—What truth is there in the publication of this morning's Avalanche relative o you and Colonel Thornburgh visiting the resident? Answer-Colonel Thornburgh and I together visited the President only upon the occasion that I have just mentioned. I did not speak to him relative to Mr. Key's apointment as postmaster-general, nor did send him any communication respecting it.

Colonel Thornburgh, as he informed me, did send a letter, in which he protested against it. I agreed with Colonel Thornburgh, that it were better to appoint a southern Republican than a southern Democrat to a position in the cabinet. This is still my opinion. Question-Why do you entertain such an brought to the Republican party by appoint-ing members of the cabinet, or other officers, from among Democrats. I think the Democratic party will in all probability repudiate all those who accept office under President Hayes, and hence Republicans will be dis-Living on the line of the Memphis and Charleston railroad: On and after March 25th, Memphis papers will be sold at five cents. right and propriety.

Question—Well, now tell us what you know about the Texas and Pacific railroad ring? Mr. Waldran.

Question—What were Mr. Hayes's reasons for selecting Mike Waldran?

Answer—I hear that it was done under the lection of Andrew Johnson, the substitute of the state of the line of promotic country Democratic central committee brought the election of Andrew Johnson, the substitute of the lection of the Memphis and Vicksburg Packet Com'y. ssion of the brogue upon his lips, and ha evidently kissed the Blarney stone. He has scores of warm friends and some very decided political enemies in this city. He is engaged in the boot and shoe business at Chicago, in which city he spends some seven or eight months in the year, but his family and res dence are in this city. He is therefore a cit zen of Memphis and Tennessee, and not a cit-izen of Chicago and Illinois. In politics Mr. Waldran has been a Beurbon Democrat, a Conservative Democrat, an Andy John Democrat, a Key Democrat, and is now prot ably a Hayes Democrat, or what a well-known Memphian calls a "disinfected" Dem-ocrat. Should he secure the prize of marhalship, he will make a good an effici officer, and will become a prominent poli-cian, because he has all the elements to ma him both or either. We do not know thing about his religious views, and there

INCENDIARISM.

Burning of the Residence of Mrs. Pax ton. in the Big Creek Neighborhood

Between twelve and one o'clock yesterd morning Mrs. Paxton's residence, located near Big Creek, was fired by unknown per-sons and consumed. The members of the family had no intimation of the fire unt they were aroused from their slumbers by the crackling flames, which had made great head way and already enveloped the resider which was a one-story frame building of hal a dozen or more rooms. No time was al-lowed for the removal of the furniture and other contents of the house, the inmates na rowly escaping with their lives. All the fu destroyed, as the building soon burned to the ground. While the incendiaries are no known, it is believed that they belong to the gang of horse-thieves that have been operat ing in that neighborhood and vicinity. weeks ago a young man named Frank Marion, alias Quentel, was arrested for steal ing a horse from Mrs. Paxton. That nigh was taken from her house and sever whipped by enraged citizens who had bee imposed upon by horse-thieves. Marion wa brought to this city by Deputy-Constable Pryde, Deputy-Sheriff M Mahon and Deputy Sheriff Leslie. Being indicted for horse-steal ing, he plead guilty and was sentenced seven years imprisonment in the penitential. The Pittman brothers were also arrested as re now in jail awaiting trial. It is believ that the incendiaries in this caze are connec ed with the horse-thief gang. Deputy-Constable Pryde leaves for the neighborhood of Washington and here, but I know nothing about the foundation of the rumor.

Question—What probability is there in of the government, exactly how I do not know. It seems to be the general under-standing that the Pacific railroad has the in-luence or power to secure a gratuity or as istance of some kind. A Brief Biography of "Mike." Memphis Ledger, of yesterday: At present the leading journals of the country are commenting upon the appointments of the Hayes administration, especially the southern appointments, and more especially upon the senate refusing to confirm the appointment of Mike Waldran as United States marshal for the district of West Tennessee. It has been asserted that Mr. Waldran is not It has been asserted that Mr. Waldran is no a citizen of Tennessee, but a citizen of Chi-cago, and that he had been a street-car conductor in Memphis. Since the war Mr. Waldran was a conductor on the Memphis and Louisville railroad for some eight years, an have recently returned from visits to Washington. The opinions of these gentlemen as elicited yesterday are presented below, and we dare say will prove interesting to our readers.

MR. FRANK S. DAVIS.

Davishing halload for some eight years, and some three years ago he was a prominent candidate for the office of sheriff, his friends pushing him forward against Charley Anderson for nomination by the Democratic convention. He resigned his position as railroad conductor in order to make a canvass for this office, and failed to secure the necessary nomination, which would have been equiv-alent to an election. He not long since was chairman of the Shelby county Democratic executive committee, and held that important office during the canvass and candidacy of Andrew Johnson for the vote a preference for Andrew Johnson for the position of United States senator, and by which cigar-box movement the legislative delegation from this city and county was pledged to vote for Andrew Johnson for that position It was freely charged that this cigar-box election was not a square thing, son for his participation in the cigar-box busi-ness; and there are scores of people who to delegation secured the election of Andrew Johnson to the United States senate, and the death of that gentleman secured the ap-pointment by Governor Porter of David M'Kendre Key to fill the vacancy caused by that death. Indeed, it can be seen that Mr. Waldran is strictly in the line of promotion. His position as chairman of the Shelby county Democratic central committee brought quent appointment of Key as United States senator, this latter position brought about Key's appointment as postmaster-general, and all this brought about Mr. Waldran's nomination as United States marshal for the district of West Tennessee. This may be regarded as the development of the principle o cause and effect. Mr. Waldran never hele he position of conductor on a mule-box this city, and no doubt never held such a po sition in any other city. He has been a stand-ing candidate for the office of sheriff, or at least his "frinds" have had him a standing candidate for that or any other good official position for several years. He is an affable and plausible gentleman, who can tell a good joke and talk local politics in first-class style He is an Irishman; has the unmistakable im-
